

GIVING UP LIVES TO AID THE POOR, THEY NEED CASH

Servants of Relief Appeal for $25,000 Needed to Complete
Home for Cancer Victims.

NEED ROOM FOR 100.

That Can Be Provided in New Home Planned in Corlears
Park Section.

"Let us help all we can reach, no matter at what cost to ourselves." That is the one cry of the Servants of Relief, the little band of noble and self-sacrificing women who are in charge of St. Rose's Free Home for Incurable Cancer at No. 426 Cherry street. These sisters are very happy at the prospect of new and larger quarters for their work, and very anxious that the plans for more extensive service shall not fall through for lack of funds. As The Evening World has told, St. Rose's expects to begin the construction of a new building near Corlears Park, on the upper east side, before the end of this month. But to complete the structure, which will be four stories high and accommodate a hundred patients, $25,000 is necessary, and only half of that amount has been raised up to the present time. To secure the rest, Mother M. Alphonsa Lathrop, the youngest daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, and the founder and manager of St. Rose's, appeals through The Evening World to the generous public. "At the utmost, we can only accommodate seventeen women in our present quarters," she says. "The new home will shelter fifty men and fifty women patients at once. Moreover, they will be in an ideally cool, carefully fitted up building. We sisters live in an atmosphere of tragic sorrow, and so can think of nothing else but how to harbor as many as possible of the cancerous men and women who are destitute. If the readers of The Evening World knew we are so ardently absorbed in such relief they could not wonder at us." All checks should be made payable to the treasurer of St. Rose's, John D. Crimmins, No. 426 Cherry street, New York. The names of some recent contributors to the charity follow: Mrs. Margaret A. Brennan, $25. B. E. Mills, S. E. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Atwood, Mrs. W. (The Store That Satisfies)

Because the Manufacturers Have Asked Us to Relieve Them of Their Surplus We Prepare for Tomorrow

A May Day for Every Woman! Being a Sale (at the Lowest Prices) of Women's Coats, Raincoats, Tailored Suits, Silk Dresses, Cotton Dresses and Separate Skirts

This Event Will Take in Our Entire Coat and Suit Section, Second Floor, Old Building

Activity begets activity!

Ask the coat and suit trade, of the better class, the finer tailors for women, and others whose business it is to keep informed, and they will tell you that this has been a backward season in women's wearing apparel.

And they will also tell you—and truly—that the Wanamaker Store has been one of the few that has been busy this season.

So, being anxious to close their seasons, the manufacturers naturally turned to us.

We Had Our Choice

We touched only lots that met our standard of quality, and these we group in this great event tomorrow, offering what we believe to be the best choosing of the season.

This Sale Will Embrace These Various Groups

Group No. 1—
Women's $35 to $45 Tailored Suits at $22.75

These include suits of dark blue and various light colored serges, pongees and satins. Plain tailored or with fancy sailor collars.

Group No. 2—
$25 to $30 Serge Suits, $17.75

Blue and black suits—the kind Paris is now wearing. They have the smart shaped, high-waisted coats and pretty double pointed collars of black satin falling over a pongee sailor collar. They show in every line their $25 to $30 values.

Group No. 3—
A Fine Lot of $27.50 Suits at $16.75

One of the prettiest of the season's models, a suit of black satin charming because of its simplicity. Severely tailored, of excellent quality satin, lined with Balkan blue or gray. A suit which formerly sold at $27.50.

Group No. 4—
400 Finely Made Coats, Regularly $25 to $35, at $15

Included are steamer and automobile coats of fine tweeds in gray, brown and tan mixtures, many of which are reproductions of beautiful foreign models. Blue and black serge coats for general wear, trimmed with black satin embroidered linen, or light satin collars and touches of braid.

Long mohair coats, imported and domestic; black pongee coats, and natural color pongee coats of the most useful kind.

Group No. 5—
Imported Raincoats at $15 Each

More than a hundred of these handsome coats, all made and shipped to us direct from their originator.

This lot includes the satin with rubber lining, in shades of black, navy, golden brown and light gray and a few of plum color with herringbone stripes.

Also a few crepe de chine coats with rubber lining.

Next come raincoats made in double texture English materials in mannish styles, some plain, others with inlaid velvet collars and raglan sleeves. Colors include tan, olive and black.

Several Hundred of Those Surprising Foulard Silk Summer Dresses at $7.50

Better news than we expected to have to-day. Welcome news to the many women who have heard of the wonderful silk dresses we sold at this price week ago—but did not hear until the dresses were all gone.

Several hundred of those charming summer foulard frocks are here—frocks that suggest a clever dressmaker—frocks that, earlier in the season, would cost much more, some of them twice as much. Many styles, all seasonable. Many colors, dark and light. All sizes up to 40 bust measurement. One price, $7.50. Wednesday, Basement, Old Bldg.

6,000 Smith Gray & Co. Spring and Summer Suits Reduced in Price 4.50 to 10.00

Without any question, this is the most important bit of fine clothes news that has ever been announced in New York at this season of the year.

Tis but little more than a year since the Smith Gray & Co. wholesale special tailoring department was organized—the marvelous growth, the wonderful success of which is directly responsible for this sale.

Beginning the second week in February of this year, the business secured by this department had assumed such huge proportions—so much quicker had been the response—so much in excess of the preparations we had made—so great was the number of orders received during the six weeks preceding Easter, that we were left no choice but to turn our entire tailoring organization over to our special order department. And so, they labored day and night on these special order garments, while six thousand Smith Gray & Co. suits, that should have been ready for the Easter trade in the Smith Gray & Co. store, were held up. They are only ready now, and this occasions the surplus of nearly six thousand suits in the Smith Gray & Co. stocks.

During the remainder of this month and the two to come, we could beyond all doubt sell practically all these suits at regular prices, but that is not the Smith Gray & Co. way—to us, those six thousand suits are surplus garments and must be treated as such. These must be sold now at exactly the same cut prices as would ordinarily prevail in July and August.

Included are fabrics of every conceivable weight, color and design—in models that embrace the entire range of the Smith Gray & Co. assortment. There are over two hundred fabric designs in sixteen different two and three button models—soft, semi-soft and plain rolled lapels—full lined, half lined and quarter lined—two and three piece suits for men, young men and boys.

We urge every lover of fine clothes to take advantage of this wonderful and unusual opportunity—the more critical you are, the surer are you of finding here, if you come in now, just the style of garment you seek at a saving of at least 4.50 and from there upwards to 10.00.
